		Q8. Summary
		Cathedrals reach out to the general public, not just those who are part of the Church of England	I do not find cathedrals particularly spiritual places	Cathedrals offer an experience of God even to those who don't believe	Cathedrals are an easy place to get in touch with the spiritual	Cathedrals are welcoming to people of all faiths and those who have no faith	The beautiful art and music in cathedrals helps me connect with the spiritual	Cathedrals are more of historical importance than spiritual importance	I do not like visiting cathedrals

-Summary

Base: All respondents

Q9. Summary
	Cathedrals are important symbols of identity in their community	Cathedrals belong to the whole community, not just the Church of England	Cathedrals are unimportant for cities in England today	I would go to a cathedral for spiritual support	Cathedrals are venues for significant events in the life of cities and the country	When visiting an English city, I usually go into its cathedral	I would go to a cathedral but only for a cultural event	I would go to a cathedral to learn more about the Christian faith	Cathedrals are just for people of Christian faith and not for people of other faiths or no faith	I find cathedrals dark and gloomy	I would go to a cathedral for its history and architecture, not for any religious or spiritual experience
