	Statements
	If my area were to have an Elected Police Commissioner, it would mean the needs of my local area would be better protected	Elected Police Commissioners will just be an added extra layer of bureaucracy	Elected Police Commissioners will be a waste of money	The police do not currently do enough to tackle the crimes in my local areas which are specific to where I live	Generally the types of crime which affect people are the same all over the country, and we do not need to have police strategies that are different for different places	I doubt that the policing in my local area will change much with the introduction of an Elected Police Commissioner
