Perceptions of Health Survey

ONLINE Fieldwork: 23rd-24th July 2014

Absolutes/col percents

Currently, income tax in the UK is between 20p (for those earning £10,000-£41,865) and 45p (for those earning £150,000 or above) for each £1 earned. How much extra, if anything, would you personally be willing to pay in income tax for every £1 you earn each month, to go directly to the NHS?
