QCHKOWQ3_6. Offering Hong Kongers that hold British National Overseas (BNO) Passports and their dependents political asylum in the UK: This week, China passed a new National Security Law that gives China new powers in the special administrative region of Hong Kong. The new law gives China the power to police a variety of 'political crimes' such as campaigning for independence, including handing out life sentences in the gravest cases. In light of China passing this new National Security Law in Hong Kong, to what extent do you support or oppose the following proposals?

QCHKOWQ5_5. Fostering good relationships with China: This week, in response to China passing a new National Security Law in the special administrative region of Hong Kong, the UK pledged to offer Hong Kongers that hold British National Overseas (BNO) Passports and their dependents a bespoke five-year visa, with the pathway to later apply for full UK citizenship. This amounts to approximately 3 million Hong Kongers. To what extent do you feel that the United Kingdom's offer is compatible or incompatible with the following?

Hong Kong Poll July 2020*

Table 30 (continuation)

QCHKOWQ5_7. Helping the UK economy following the Covid-19 pandemic: This week, in response to China passing a new National Security Law in the special administrative region of Hong Kong, the UK pledged to offer Hong Kongers that hold British National Overseas (BNO) Passports and their dependents a bespoke five-year visa, with the pathway to later apply for full UK citizenship. This amounts to approximately 3 million Hong Kongers. To what extent do you feel that the United Kingdom's offer is compatible or incompatible with the following?
